This will be the 39th Season for the REP. Paul Steger is the new executive director. Virginia Smith, UNL theater professor, has been appointed as artistic director. In November 2005, the late Johnny Carson gave the university a $5.3 million gift. $4.3 million will be used to renovate and expand the UNL Temple Building which is The REP's home. The university hopes to break ground on this project in the spring of 2006 and hopes to use the Lied's Carson Theatre and the Temple's Studio Theatre during the Temple renovation.

"Omnium Gatherum," performed in rotation from July 6 to August 5 in the Carson Theatre; by Theresa Rebeck and Alexandra Gersten-Vassilaros and directed by Virginia Smith. A post-9/11 dinner party with a 'tossed salad' of characters as different as they are alike. Hosted by Suzie, a character reminiscent of Martha Stewart, the elegant dinner party appears to have reached the height of who's who on the social circuit until the helicopters begin beating the air and things begin to blow up. A captivating and compelling treatment of issues ripped from today's headlines.

"Leading Ladies," performed in rotation from July 6 to August 5 in the Carson Theatre; by Ken Ludwig (who wrote "Lend Me a Tenor") and directed by Paul Steger. A cross-dressing comedy a la "Some Like It Hot" and "Charley's Aunt." Leo and Jack, two traveling down-on-their-luck Shakespearean actors, concoct a plot to inherit one million dollars each by pretending to be the long-lost nieces of Florence - a wealthy, dying woman. What they didn't plan on was the presence of Florence's beautiful and alluring niece, Meg. Let the hilarity begin!

Third production is to be announced, also performed in rotation from July 6 to August 5.
